LONDON (AP) — Five hooded figures were hustled into a small country courthouse today and formally charged with participation in Britain's great train robbery or receiving part of the $7.2 million in loot.

Three men and two women were arraigned.

One of the men charged with robbery, William Boal, denied the charges.

A detective told the court that Boal had told him during questioning: "I am silly to get involved with this. I should have known better."

The five suspects, two of them sisters, appeared before a magistrate in Linslade, a village 42 miles northwest of London.

More Cash Recovered

The village is four miles from Cheddington, where a gang of bandits ambushed the night mail train from Glasgow eight days ago and escaped with 2.5 million pounds ($7.2 million).

The amount of the money recovered rose today, with a police announcement that it totaled 141,000 pounds ($394,800).

Two suitcases stuffed with money were found this morning in a woods south of London in Surrey, and police began checking whether it was loot from the mail hold-up.

The three men and two women were ordered held by police until Aug. 24 while the nationwide hunt continued for cash and confederates.

London Area Combed

Reliable reports said nearly 100 detectives were combing the London area for members of the gang.

Officially, police said no further arrests were imminent. But there was reason to believe the net was tightening.

Authorities indicated they believed the gang was still in Britain. There was an unconfirmed report, however, that Scotland Yard had asked French police to watch for a 20-ton British yacht believed plying between the English South Coast and the north coast of France. Police fanned out along the South Coast, keeping a watch on little-used harbors.

The two men arrested in Bournemouth after a fight with police were identified as Roger John Cordrey and William Boal, both of London. They were charged with being concerned "with other unknown" in the predawn robbery.

Contest For Reward

Boal's wife, Rene, and Alfred and Mary Pilgrim, who run a London florist shop, were charged with receiving 1,100 pounds ($3,332) in stolen banknotes. The two women were said to be sisters.

Emily Clark, the Bournemouth widow who tipped police when Boal and Cordrey offered her three months rent in advance for a garage, went into hiding.

"I don't want to say anything about it at all," Mrs. Clark told reporters as she left for a secret address. "It's all very frightening."

A contest appeared to be developing for the 260,000 pounds ($728,000) in reward for information leading to apprehension of the gang. Most of the reward money will be paid only if a "substantial part" of the loot is recovered.

Mrs. Clark had a claim. So did John Maris, 33, a herdsman who led detectives to the gang's farm hideout 18 miles from the scene of the robbery.

"I foresee complications," said Cecil Hart, head of the London firm of insurance assessors.

Racketeer Cohen Slugged In Prison; Has Skull Break

ATLANTA (AP) — Racketeer Mickey Cohen, 49, has regained consciousness after suffering a skull fracture when hit by a fellow prisoner with an iron pipe.

Officials at the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary Hospital said early today that Cohen was "mentally clear" and that his blood pressure, pulse and respiration were normal. The prisoner had undergone surgery to repair skull damage.

Warden David Heritage said Cohen was attacked Wednesday during an argument in the prison radio shop by a former mental patient.

Bonn Will Sign Nuclear Ban Pact

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany announced officially today it will sign the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

The decision was made unanimously at a cabinet meeting that lasted almost four hours.

Mailbags from the London-bound train which was held up and robbed Aug. 8 are unloaded at police headquarters in Aylesbury, Buckinghamshire, England. The bags, some of them stuffed with hay, were found in a police search of a farmhouse, Scotland Yard announced the arrest of five in connection with the $7,000,000 robbery. (AP Wirephoto)

Fugitives Tell About Kidnaping By Castro's Men

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "Our only arms were Bibles," said Julio Fernandez, one of 10 fugitives from Cuba who escaped kidnaping by Fidel Castro's men on the British island of Aguililla Cay.

"We carried no guns. They came firing from two gunboats," said Fernandez, 27, a Havana construction worker.

"About 15 heavily armed militiamen disembarked and came at us cursing and using foul language," he said. "They said they would shoot us on the spot if we didn't surrender."

Among 19 who gave up and were taken back to Cuba, Fernandez said, were four women, including his wife. Their two small children went with her.

U.S. fighter jets and a Coast Guard seaplane circled the tiny, uninhabited island helplessly and watched the strafing and kidnaping, according to Lt. J. E. Mitts, 30, of Denver. He was making a routine Coast Guard check of the island Tuesday afternoon, under the provisions of a contract with the British government.

The 100-foot Cuban gunboats, Mitts reported, "trained guns on us, aircraft and small arms. It looked like each torpedo boat had a 20-millimeter gun mounted on it."

In Washington, the State Department press officer, Richard Phillips, said Thursday that U.S. aircraft were helpless to intervene because the action was on British territory.

After the gunboats and helicopter left, a Coast Guard vessel picked up the refugees who had hidden. They were brought to Key West, Fla., and then Miami.

Sugar Refinery Bombed In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — One unidentified plane bombed and strafed a Cuban sugar mill Thursday and another flew over a refinery at Havana this morning, the Cuban radio reported.

Antiaircraft batteries went into action today when a plane flew over the Nico Lopez refinery in Havana Bay, formerly the U.S. Esso refinery. The plant was nationalized by the Castro regime in 1960.

The broadcast said heavy anti-aircraft fire forced the plane to change its course away from Cuba. Its nationality was not reported.

Another broadcast, quoting an armed forces ministry communiqué, said a small private plane attacked the Bolivia sugar mill in Camaguey Province at 4:05 a.m. Thursday, strafing it and dropping two 50-pound bombs from an altitude between 450 and 600 feet.

Only one of the bombs exploded, the report said, and it did no damage. The plane flew northward after completing its mission.

The sugar mill is located at Moron, in an area where some guerrilla activity has been reported.

The underwater vehicle was designed at the Naval Ordnance Test Station at China Lake, Calif.

Its design is based partially on the work of famed underwater explorer August Piccard and his bathyscaphe Trieste.

Unlike other submarines, the new underwater craft has fixed positive buoyancy — no ballast tanks.

The external hull of the craft is not pressure resistant. Holes in the hull allow water to enter. Operators are protected from pressure by being enclosed in a special pressure vehicle.

The external hull is used only as a streamlined structure, much like present practice in aircraft construction.

The vehicle is propelled by an electric motor and electric storage battery borrowed from a torpedo design. The Navy said the present propulsion system is a temporary measure. More advanced systems are under study which will permit the vehicle to operate at greater depths.

The Navy did not say at what depths the new vehicle can now operate.

Present tests are unmanned.

Jumper Rescued

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — An American military plane pilot, forced to parachute from 20,000 feet to the ocean's surface after his F86 jet lost a wing in a mishap today, was taken aboard a Russian fishing vessel pending the arrival of the U.S. Coast Guard.

Viet Nam Fire Suicide Repeated

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem's government clamped martial law on two major Vietnamese cities today in the wake of another Buddhist suicide by fire—the third this week.

Martial law was imposed on the central Viet Nam capital of Hue, where the latest burning occurred early today, and on the coastal city of Nhatrang, where Vietnamese troops quelled a big demonstration with tear gas.

Reliable sources said U.S. military personnel had been restricted to their barracks from dusk to dawn in both cities, which are centers of U.S. military advisory groups.

All Vietnamese in Hue except civil servants and troops were ordered to stay indoors.

Tension reached a new pitch when a 71-year-old Buddhist monk, Thich Tieu Dieu, burned himself to death at 4 a.m. in Hue's biggest pagoda. It was the fifth such ritual suicide in two months in the Buddhist campaign against the government of Diem, a Roman Catholic.

Hopes To Avert Rail Strike Dim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rail unions have accepted suggestions advanced by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz for bargaining procedures in the jobs dispute.

Never spelled out in detail, the suggestions were made Aug. 2 to define the limits within which bargaining could proceed. They were not intended as settlement proposals.

Negotiations have sputtered to a stalemate and any optimism Thursday's union announcement may have raised soon dwindled when J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, issued a statement saying the unions "insist give-and-take of collective bargaining means they do all the taking and the railroads do all the giving."

Unless a settlement is reached or Congress approves President Kennedy's plan to turn the dispute over to the Interstate Commerce Commission, a nationwide rail strike Aug. 29 appears inevitable.

Macmillan Party Has Slim Margin

STRATFORD ON AVON, England (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative party held on to John Profumo's seat in the House of Commons today by a narrow margin that did nothing to boost its hopes for Britain's next general election.

As expected, Conservative candidate Angus Maude, 50, a journalist, was elected in the traditionally Conservative Stratford district to replace the disgraced former war minister.

But Maude's margin over Labor party candidate Andrew Faulds was only 3,470 votes, and Faulds and Liberal party nominee Derek Mirfin together outdistanced the Conservative by 4,512 votes.

Profumo in the general election of 1959, had been re-elected by a majority of 14,129 votes over his Labor opponent in a two-man race.

The election outcome turned the Stratford seat from a safe Conservative place into a marginal one.

Some quarters felt victory by a narrow margin would mean

Governor Spurs Committee On New Districting

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney, taking a day off from his vacation, has invited Democratic and Republican officials to an urgent meeting on the controversial question of creating a legislative apportionment commission.

In a letter to Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency, Romney said the meeting would be held Monday in the executive office.

Invited to attend will be three Democrats — Secretary of State James Hare, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Ferency — and two Republicans in addition to Romney. They are State Controller Glenn Allen and the GOP state vice-chairman, Mrs. Elly Peterson.

"I think such a meeting will help to clear the air and determine if there is to be good will and cooperation from both sides in carrying out the will of the people in adopting the new Constitution."

Could Go To Court

The governor indicated that he probably would go to court if the meeting "produces evidence that good will and cooperation are lacking on either side."

Ferency said he wanted to talk with Romney before deciding if he would attend the meeting.

"I'm interested in resolving the controversy," Ferency told the Associated Press, "but I'd like to know whether he really wants a meaningful meeting or is just seeking publicity or public support."

The squabble revolves around a provision in the new Constitution setting up the bi-partisan commission, which will redistrict both house of the State Legislature.

Republicans have designated their four members of the Commission but Democratic officials have declined to do so, pending a determination of how the members will be paid, where the group will meet, and other details.

Legislation Needed?

Romney said he hoped that the meeting could find answers to these questions:

—When and if secretary Hare intends to call the commission.

—When and if the Democrats intend to appoint the Democratic commission members.

—Whether there will be a legal challenge to controller Allen's view that the commission's $25,000 appropriation can be used for the purpose it was intended.

—Whether further implementing legislation is needed in the special session, as secretary Hare has suggested, "or whether such action would actually hinder the orderly process of events."

The Constitution stipulates that the commission shall be appointed immediately after its adoption and meet within 30 days.

The attorney general has issued a formal opinion that the date of "adoption" means Jan. 1, 1964, when the Constitution goes into effect.

Brenda Lee, Races Offer Fairgoers Exciting Weekend

With all exhibits intact, the Gladiolus Show in all its colorful glory, and the promise of exciting stock car races and the Brenda Lee show Sunday night the U.P. State Fair moves into its weekend closing.

Last night George Gobel entertained a grandstand crowd that appreciated the comic charm of Lonesome George — although the most comfortable of the audience huddled in blankets and coats as the temperature dropped to an unofficial 48 at the Fairgrounds. Officially it was 51 last evening, explaining in part at least the loss of grandstand patronage.

The Weather Bureau at Escanaba says the temperature is running 8 and 9 degrees below normal for this season; and Ray LaPorte, U.P. State Fair secretary-manager, noting that "the weather is something over which we have no control" said the attendance on the grounds has been good. But that chill night air is no inducement to sit in the grandstand.

The success of the Fair perhaps can not be measured in grandstand attendance, LaPorte commented. The many fine exhibits, record numbers of entries in many departments, outstanding livestock entries — perhaps this is the true function of the Fair. More people are thus getting the most benefit from the exposition.

On Saturday the Fair will have stock car races in the afternoon, with time trials at 1 and the races at 2 o'clock. The racing schedule is the same for Sunday afternoon.

Ray Price and the Cherokee Ranch Boys, plus variety acts will be presented on the grandstand stage at 8:15 p.m. Saturday.

Sunday night at the same hour will bring to the stage Miss Brenda Lee, Bobby Beckam and the Casuals in a program of popular music by these recording stars. Miss Lee was popular with Fair crowds two years ago and The Casuals will be welcomed by the teen-agers, for whom The Casuals will play for dancing after the show.

There is no admission charge to attend the Fair and there is much to see that is free. The many agricultural, industrial and educational displays crowd the exhibition buildings and will not be moved until after 7 p.m. Sunday.

The midway is in full swing and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. will be Children's Day with reduced prices on all the rides and midway amusements.

Witnesses Build Strong Case For Test Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of three key Senate committees agreed today that administration witnesses are building up a strong and effective case for ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Armed Services Committee said government diplomatic military and scientific spokesmen "make a very strong case." But he added that he is keeping an open mind until all the evidence is in.

The Georgia Democrat said he was "impressed that the witnesses are aware that there are military disadvantages" in adherence while maintaining they are more than offset by other factors in U.S. favor.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview that he believes the treaty is picking up votes as the hearings proceed, on the basis of a very effective presentation.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., chairman of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee, said he thought the case for ratification is "terrifically strong. If anyone had any doubts about this treaty," he added, "I think he found a great deal of comfort and assurance in the testimony."

The three chairmen voiced their opinions before the Foreign Relations Committee went behind closed doors to question Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency on the security aspects of the treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere, underwater and in space.

The three committees, sitting jointly, heard Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor testify Thursday that the Joint Chiefs of Staff, of which he is chairman agreed to support ratification without any "pressures" or "arm twisting" from Pentagon civilian superiors.

He said they based their support on asurances of:

1. "Comprehensive aggressive and continuing" weapons development and improvement in the underground testing environment permitted by the treaty.

2. Maintenance of modern nuclear laboratory facilities and programs to insure continued application of human scientific resources to these programs.

3. Maintenance of facilities and resources to institute atmospheric tests promptly if needed for national security or if the Soviet Union should abrogate the treaty.

4. Improvement of capability to detect any violations of the treaty and to maintain knowledge of Sino-Soviet "nuclear activity capabilities and achievements."

Kalamazoo Mill Walkout Ended

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A 31-month-old strike ended at Rex Paper Co. Thursday night with ratification of a new two-year contract by members of Local 1028 of the United Paper Makers and Paper Workers Union.

Approximately 145 employees had been on strike since May 1 when contract negotiations broke down following expiration of the previous contract.

Net Reduction Increased To Near 11 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tighter rules on dividend taxation have been written into a sweeping tax reduction bill which asks Congress to provide bigger and faster cuts than President Kennedy proposed.

If it gets a stamp of approval after an uncertain journey through Congress, the bill would provide a net tax relief of close to $11 billion. Kennedy originally suggested $10.3 billion. Reductions for most income taxpayers would average about 15½ per cent.

But key members of the House and Senate have already expressed doubts about passage this year.

First Test In House

The House Ways and Means Committee completed work on the bill and will meet again in about 10 days for a final review after the measure has been drafted into legislative language.

The first test for the bill will come in the House, probably early next month.

The proposed new dividend rules would trim somewhat the overall tax benefits for persons who have a substantial income from yields on stocks. For the family holding a few shares there might be no difference or even a tax advantage.

But the committee's action on dividend tax benefits, taken on a 13-12 vote after a cliff-hanging contest behind closed doors, probably will meet a determined Republican counterattack.

The present special treatment of dividend income was voted in 1954 by a Republican-controlled Congress during the Eisenhower administration. Republicans contend the provision corrected only partially what they say is double taxation of dividends.

Speedup In Collection

The committee also approved the Treasury's proposal to speed up by degrees the collection of the corporate income tax. Under the Treasury plan, at the end of seven years the collections would be current.

The proposed new dividend rule would eliminate, in two stages, the present 4-per cent credit allowed on taxes for dividend income. This would be cut to 2 per cent on dividends paid during 1964 and would be eliminated at the end of that year. But the present provision for excluding from tax the first $50 of dividends—$100 in the case of stocks jointly owned by husband and wife—would be modified to double the amount.

Flowers Bring Color To Fair

By PEGGY MUNSON

A dry season and Monday's severe rain-storm hindered flower growers and probably accounted for so few entries in the floriculture department at the U. P. State Fair.

Mrs. Robert Jensen, superintendent of the department, however reports that several unusual types of potted plants were entered that ordinarily aren't seen at the Fair. Among these were a rosary plant, Star of Bethlehem, prayer plant, voodoo plant, oleander and jade.

Despite the weather factor the dahlias were of exceptionally fine quality and according to Mrs. Jensen seem to be growing in popularity.

This year many new names appeared in the entry book, showing an added interest in this display. Archie Rugg, of Escanaba, returned after not having entered for three years. He had been a regular in the floriculture show for many years and this year topped first place with his zinnias and a lovely vase of garden flowers.

Many entrants received first place with several entries: Henry Caron, Rte. 1, Escanaba, in both basket of wild flowers and a magnificent basket of garden blooms; Francis Lueneburg, Escanaba, a multi-blue ribbon prize winner has a lovely orange colored tuberous begonia of the finest quality; Mrs. Anita Fudala, Bark River, used her artistic talents to take first in both large and small table arrangements; Don Smith of Perkins received a second prize on an unusual feather leaved African violet plant.

Walter Wickert of Escanaba was judge for the contest and considered quality of cut flowers, length of stem, foliage and arrangement in his decisions.

The department is confined to amateurs only or one who doesn't make a living by selling flowers but grows them for his own pleasure.

James Bullock of the Silver Lead Pony Farm, Marquette, exhibited Shetland ponies at the U. P. Fair and delighted thousands of children and adults with his exhibit of the ponies. Here Mary Rose Tupper, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tupper of Grand Rapids (visiting Mrs. Tupper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Louis, 1126 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone) holds a Shetland mare while its foal joins the act. ## Soil Testing For Lime Need Offered

From mid-summer through late fall is the best time of year to apply liming materials says Jim Porter, soil scientist at Michigan State University. He points out that a very good place for lime in the rotation is on soil being prepared for grain. Still another is broadcasting on sod which is soon to be plowed.

"There still is time to get soil tested so that lime can be applied this year to help maintain yields at profitable levels," says Porter. In Alger County, soil samples can be brought to the Cooperative Extension Service Office in Munising and to the ASCS Office in Chatham. Each soil test costs 75 cents.

Schwalbach Study Wins Sweepstakes

By VICTOR POWERS

John Schwalbach, Jr., Wells, won the sweepstakes in the senior professional section of this year's art show at the U. P. State Fair for his "Blue Chair," an interesting study in shades of blue. It also was awarded first in oils. Schwalbach's other winners were "Coffee Grinder," second in watercolor and a fourth in miscellaneous for "The Nigerian," a strikingly guided figure.

The show, one of the largest and most representative in the history of the Fair, lists artists from some 13 communities that have won prizes or mention as "Picture of the Day." It dominates both the east and west walls of the Industrial Exhibits Building.

Munising artists took the majority of prizes in the professional section. Ann Malone had second place in the junior section of the show.

Picture of the Day in the art department at the U. P. State Fair for Saturday will be an interesting and lively hunting scene, the work of Sharon Murphy of Garden. It is one of the entries in the junior section of the show.

Variety of Subjects
"Marcia", a child in pastel and watercolor, won a third for Mrs.

Herb Nicholson, Escanaba. Mrs. Alice Powers, Escanaba, had first for "Nasturtiums," a watercolor and "Vic" a pastel portrait on tinted background.

Senior amateur sweepstakes and first was awarded to "Blessings" an oil by Ann Carlson of Gladstone. She also has the second in oils for "Field Flowers." Third was "El Toreador" by Margaret Anderson, Carney and Darlene Prokos, Escanaba, had fourth for a bright piece titled "Design."

Mrs. Jerome Miller, Iron Mountain, topped the amateur watercolorists with "The Essence." Then came "Still Life with Glass" by Mrs. Fred Thompson, Munising. "Bluffs" by Ruth Landen of Bessemer took third and Mrs. Hilja Richards Sr., of Laurium won fourth with "Old Quincy."

Margaret Anderson of Carney won first in the miscellaneous classification with "The Earth," a mosaic. Second was "Mother," a charcoal portrait by Blenda Houle, Escanaba. Mrs. Clara Beauchamp, Ironwood, with "Little Ray" and Mrs. Carol Asp, Norway, with "Portrait of a Man" won third and fourth with their charcoal drawings.

In the junior section, where the entries were not classified by medium, firsts were won by "Forlorn Acres," Otella Kearns, Escanaba; "Winter Sunset," Monica Miller, Iron Mountain and "Con-fetti," Duane Landen, Bessemer. Red ribbons were awarded to "Bouquet in White" by Susan Nicholson, Escanaba; "Mud Puddle," Joyce Geline, Vulcan, and "Bright," Monica Miller, Iron Mountain. "Study in Taupe," an oil by Cathy Dion, Escanaba; "Lady With Veil," oil by Margorie Salo, South Range and "The Lion" a mosaic by Pat Fitzharris, Escanaba, won third prizes.

Young Escanabans took all three fourth places. They were Joyce Trombley, "Pine Tree" a pastel and the oils, "Sylvester" by Otella Kearns and "Fruit Stillife" by John VandeWiele. June Hardy, Vulcan, with "Enchanted Forest" and Escanaba's Pamela Malinowski with "Young Lily" and Joyce Trombley with "Sleigh Ride" claimed the fifth prizes.

Kiwanians Go To Convention

The Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Kiwanis District's 45th annual convention will be held Aug. 18-20 at Iron Mountain. Escanaba Kiwanians planning to attend with their wives are Ralph Schefler, club president; Ed Rudness, Guy Kntusen, Thaxter Shaw and Clarence Zerbel, all past presidents; vice presidents William Hemes and John O'Brien; Rene Labre, secretary, and Victor Nelson.

Paul A. Gorman, executive vice president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. will be the featured speaker at the banquet Monday evening, Aug. 19. Charles J. Derr, Fond du Lac district commercial manager for the Wisconsin Telephone Co., is the district governor for Kiwanis.

Gorman is a director on the boards of five Bell System companies plus the Union Carbide Corp., Summit Trust Co., and the Bankers Trust Co. He also serves as a trustee of the National 4-H Club Foundation and is a member of the New York State Chamber of Commerce.

A number of seminars are planned to study the membership's service programs, especially those involved with youth work. This includes the vocational guidance programs, student loans and programs of assistance to vocational and parole officers in helping parolees return to a normal, orderly life.

Kiwanis has organized 27 Key Clubs in high schools and 10 Circle K Clubs at the college level to expose students to business people and conditions and make them aware of the possibilities for community service activities.

About 1,000 are expected to convene at Iron Mountain from among the district's 137 local clubs. The district membership totals 7,400 and covers Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula.

Sandstone Sought To Repair Library

Opening bids for a variety of materials and equipment, the Escanaba City Council last night was informed that it may not be possible to make masonry repairs to the exterior of the Carnegie Library building because of the difficulty of finding matching sandstone.

Carnegie Public Library was constructed in 1900, financed largely by a gift of $20,000 from the late Andrew Carnegie, steel magnate. The exterior walls are of dark red Marquette sandstone.

Through the years weathering has badly eroded the stone, particularly on the north wall. One hundred and fifty square feet of sandstone of approximately the same color is needed to make the repairs.

To Light S. 23rd St.
No bids were received by the Council for the repair, but Erling Arntzen, Escanaba building contractor, advised that he has sought unsuccessfully to locate replacement stone for the library building.

He reported that he has been unable to find more than about 30 or 40 square feet, far short of the amount of stone needed. Stone salvaged from older buildings is the only source of supply.

City Manager George Harvey suggested considering the use of other materials and the project is held in abeyance for further study.

Eight bids to supply the city with equipment to light S. 23rd St., now a four-lane highway, from Ludington south to 8th Ave., were received by the Council and referred to William Van Effen, electric utility superintendent.

The city manager said the lighting will be extended southward along the highway as funds are available, keeping in mind the street lighting needs in other sections of the city.

Change Trailer Law

Three bids were received to supply the fire department with 1,000 feet of new hose to replace old hose, and were referred to Fire Chief Nels Bergeon, with approval to accept the low bid meeting specifications.

No objections were received by the Council on its hearing on assessments for a water main project on 6th Ave. S. from 23rd St. east to 21st St.

On petition, the Council approved a change in the trailer ordinance providing that unoccupied

Road Fund Aid Shows Increase

The distribution of second quarter 1963 motor vehicle highway fund collections to Michigan counties and cities and villages is under way and will bring $115,090 to the Delta County Road Commission.

Highway fund receipts during April, May and June totaled more than $47 million, an increase of about 21 1/2 million dollars above the same period a year ago. All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the motor vehicle highway fund.

Under a formula the state highway department receives 47 per cent, 35 per cent goes to the county road commissions, and 18 per cent is distributed to cities and villages.

Delta County will get $115,090 for its county road system. Other counties in the area will receive: Luce $53,361, Menominee $120,639, Schoolcraft $58,798, Mackinac $71,931, Marquette $151,941, Dickinson $90,059.

Cities and villages in this area to benefit from the fund are: Escanaba $25,856, Daggett $1,374, Garden $1,041, Gladstone $10,608, Manistique $7,779, Menominee $19,598, Munising $7,431, Newberry $4,717, Powers $1,376, Stephenson $2,564.

Gobel And Brown (Sandy, That Is) Entertain 4-Hers

The annual 4-H Club banquet at the U. P. State Fair Thursday night certainly had variety. Headliners on its program were State Treasurer Sanford Brown and comedian George Gobel.

Edward Breclaw of Vulcan, a 4-H member, was master of ceremonies. He was boys achievement winner of U. P. Clubs' recent 4-H Week at Camp Shaw and winner of the first Joseph Trepanier scholarship. He'll enter Michigan State University in September as an agricultural student.

Sandy Brown is a ham-handed politician with a pleasant line of country chatter and he led off his humorous debate with Gobel by declaring that a farmer is entitled to say that he is a stand-out in his field.

"I can't say that I'm a stand-out in my own field," rebutted Gobel. "The only thing I like about Sandy Brown's job is that they only take a rating every two years."

"When I started," said Brown, "we were still using the horse and buggy and now we have space travel."

On air travel, Gobel contributed "Children are little bundles of joy that are brought by a big bird with long skinny legs and a big long beak. Of course, your wife may be shaped different than mine."

"I was on a platform once with Joe E. Brown," said Sandy Brown, "and he said 'I don't know why I have to follow some comedian named Brown.'"

"I'd like to sing," said Gobel to the 4-Hers, "but I don't sing the kind of songs that people today enjoy. I sing and you can understand the words." (He sang a "love" song titled "Here Are My Arms" about giving somebody the elbow, and with the added endorsement of having kidney stones mounted for a dear one.)

"I am the coordinator for the Michigan Food for Peace program," said Brown.

"I'm the head of my family," said Gobel. "When my snookie old wife, Alice, tells me to jump I ask 'How high?'"

"Somebody asked me if I'd rather kiss a woman in my dreams or in real life. How stupid can you get? But I notice you do bump into a better class of women in your dreams."

On the serious side State Treasurer Brown told the 4-H Club members "Don't let anyone tell you you don't need education; don't be a dropout. We can't use any more unskilled workers. We don't have any unemployed; only unskilled there are lots of jobs but no people with the knowledge to fill them."

Gobel, the headliner on the evening show at the grandstand, sang a couple songs for a big grandstand crowd reminiscent of his early years with the WLS radio gang at Chicago, where he was born and grew up, but devoted most of his time to folksy patter.

"I offer documentary humor," he explained. "The world isn't ready for it yet. Lots of entertainers lie to you but I tell the truth. If I tell you a rooster can pull a freight train you better hitch him up."

Master of ceremonies Breclaw presented an award to Dan Cota of Garden for the Rock 4-H Club which won the U. P. clubs' annual model business meeting contest this year, and a plaque to Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press citing the Press' service to 4-H.

Gobel said he's been in Escanaba before with a WLS troupe many years ago. "I was a boy soprano," he said. "I was booked for the fair at Jackson, Mich., when I was offered this date. My manager and I are both from Chicago originally so we thought that as long as we were in Michigan we might as well do Escanaba, too. He thought I could get a car pickup from a Lower Peninsula airport but when we found it was 240 miles from Escanaba!"

Gobel came by air. He lives at Encino, Calif., and looks forward to a busy year in television, he said, as a guest performer. He won't have a show of his own in the fall.

Phone Soliciting Is Opposed By Escanaba Chamber

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce warned today that this is the time of the year when transient solicitors solicit businessmen and home owners for services which local dealers furnish.

"Signers of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce solicitation agreement are reminded that it is only through the complete cooperation of all members that an agreement of this kind is effective," Chamber Manager Walter Lewke said.

The Chamber emphasized that its solicitation policy is opposed to any type of telephone solicitation.

If there is any doubt concerning the type of services or quality of the merchandise, the Chamber urges the public to call its office before signing a contract, at ST6-2192. This also applies to any type of telephone solicitation for contributions for any purpose.

Chamber Listing Homes For Meet

Escanaba will be the host for the Michigan Education Association (upper Michigan teachers convention) Oct. 10-11. About 2,500 educators are expected to attend the two-day conference.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is now listing rooms in private homes to accommodate the overflow from the hotel and motel accommodations in the Escanaba area. Local residents who have rooms to rent in private homes are asked to call the Chamber office, ST6-2192. The majority of housing requests are for Thursday evening, October 10.

One Year, 2 Mill Vote Sept. 30 To Build New Jail

Adoption of a resolution by the Delta County Board of Supervisors Thursday set the wheels in motion for action on a proposed new county jail.

The resolution sets Sept. 30 for a special election in which property owners will be asked to vote two mills for a one-year period to create a matching fund for construction of a new jail on property adjacent and to the north of the present Delta County Building.

The two-mill proposal would provide approximately $155,000 of the County's $177,000 share of the cost of the new facility. The county has been notified that a $177,000 federal grant has been authorized for the project.

The millage would be levied on the 1963 tax rolls.

In Thursday's session the county board also approved changes in the basement of the new jail to meet the State standards so the area could be used as an emergency control center for Civil Defense. Authority to make the changes is delegated to the Building & Grounds Committee.

Arne Arntzen of Bay de Noc Architect & Co. said the change would be a minor one and would only mean constructing a heavier floor.

The board also authorized a $712 expenditure from the contingency fund for a sanitary sewer from the alley to Ludington St. on N. 3rd St. The street has been prepared for paving and the installation should be made before paving. The sewer would service the proposed new jail.

The board also increased a promotional fund on the new jail from $500 to $1,000. The money will be used for an educational program on the project to explain the jail project.

On a motion by Supervisor Pedersen of Bay de Noc Township the board reaffirmed its stand against an antlered deer hunt in Delta County, and will send a communication to the State Department of Conservation requesting that it contact the county board in the future before authorizing such a season in this area.

In other actions, Escanaba businessman John Fawcett was reappointed to a second five-year term on the Delta County Building Authority by unanimous ballot. Fawcett was nominated by Supervisor L. J. Jacobs.

On a request from the Delta County Bankers Assn., a county surveyors study committee was appointed by Wheaton L. Strom, board chairman.

The committee appointments came after the Bankers Assn. informed the board of the increasing surveying costs involved in mortgage processing. Matt Smith of the Escanaba National Bank, representing the association, said that in some cases the survey costs have reached such proportion ($300 and more) that in the future the banks may not consider lending money on the lands.

Strom pointed out that the statutes provide for an office of county surveyor, an office which has been vacant since 1952. "Such an office," he said, "would be an asset to the county and would help in straightening out the complex problem of boundary lines throughout the area."

Appointed to the committee were: Phil Miron of Ford River, chairman; Eugene Beck, Escanaba Township; Edwin Bergman, Bark River; Maurice LaVigne, Nahma; and Henry Vietzke of Masonville. The group will report in the October meeting of the board.

Strom also appointed a Calendar of Events Committee, whose purpose will be to provide the board members with information on expiring terms of appointed offices in advance of board meetings.

The committee will include George Young of Gladstone, chairman; Glen Moreau of Escanaba; and Phil Miron of Ford River.

Clinton District Wins Soil Saving Contest Honors

ST. JOHNS, Mich.—The Clinton Soil Conservation District has been named Michigan's grand award conservation district for 1962-63.

This district was chosen by state agricultural leaders who reviewed the work of farmers and supervisors entered in the 16th annual soil conservation awards program of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, O.

Maurice Gove, St. Johns, selected as the state's outstanding farmer conservationist, and Robert Moore, Elsie, member of his district conservation board, will be guests of the company on a four-day tour to Goodyear Farms, near Phoenix, Ariz., in December. There the two men, along with 102 others representing top districts throughout the United States, will study conservation practices on the 14,000-acre desert.

Second place honors in Michigan were won by the West Ottawa Soil Conservation District, which named Wilford Umor, Conklin, as the outstanding farmer-conservationist.

State Acquires Bois Blanc Tract

LANSING — The State of Michigan recently acquired a 695-acre tract of choice wilderness land on Bois Blanc Island which has long been sought as a natural area.

Highly valued for its primeval forest which features a stand of large pine reminiscent of conditions in Michigan before the early logging days, the area takes in all but about five acres of a peninsula that juts into Lake Huron for more than one mile.

The five acres not coming to the state are located at the tip of the peninsula and include the sites of two lighthouses, one of which was abandoned and sold by the federal government a number of years ago. The other parcel is still being used by the U.S. Coast Guard.

Acquisition of the 695-acre tract was approved by the Conservation Commission in 1958 through an exchange in which state lands were transferred to Marquette National Forest of Mackinac County.

The Conservation Department showed an interest in obtaining the site more than 20 years ago because of unique natural features. With the Michigan Natural Areas Council and other organizations and individuals adding their strong support, efforts were increased to preserve the 695 acres when plans were made to cut timber in the tract eight years ago.

Cochran Honored By State Legion

State Commander C. Oscar Hammond of Northville, of the American Legion, announces appointment of Dwight Cochran, Rte. 2, Box 120 Rapid River as a member of the Finance-Auditing Committee.

"Appointment of Mr. Cochran comes as recognition of many years of service in our organization," said Hammond. "It has the whole-hearted endorsement of the Michigan American Legion and is testimony to past services rendered to the local community of Legionnaires."

Savvy For Fairgoers

Persons who hurry past the cowbarns at the Upper Peninsula State Fair to get to the grandstand must wonder why other persons walk through the barns and talk with the herdsmen and dairy specialists.

If adults could all make a tour of the barns under the guidance of Jack Little, Michigan State University Extension dairy specialist in the Upper Peninsula and head of the Chatham Farm Experiment Station, some of them would make subsequent trips to the grandstand by way of the cowbarns.

Dairy foods are a very important part of the American diet and no matter whether they come from frozen, liquid, dry powder or aerosol they start in a cow. Diets change and so do cows and so — especially — do dairy products. Dr. Charles Lassiter, head of the Dairy Department of Michigan State University, told U. P. dairymen that they should regard milk as a raw material.

Michigan dairy farms have shrunk from 50,000 to 25,000 in 15 years and a further decline to about 10,000 has been predicted by some persons, but Dr. Lassiter told the dairymen he foresees a prosperous future for survivors. Methods are changing radically. The Upper Peninsula's hopes for a husky survival of its dairy farming ride on change and improvement.

What does the U. P. Fair show of dairying progress? Little reports a big dairy show, with 535 animals shown and several calves born at the fair. There are 258 Holsteins, 133 Guernseys, three Ayrshires, 64 Jerseys and 78 Brown Swiss shown. The count compares with 503 last year and a record 556 at the fair in a year when many more 4-H calves were shown.

The shows entries are evidence of a big interest in dairying. More significant is the gain in quality because of artificial breeding, better selection of animals, and better feeding.

The term "artificial breeding" is known to everyone but its implications aren't fully understood outside dairy circles. "It means" says Little "that from the artificial breeding services dairy farmers have access to the best bulls in the world." This means of upgrading herds with sires of proved production is one of the miracles of genetics of modern animal husbandry.

In the Upper Peninsula's dairying were not strongly in this artificial insemination program, its outlook would be hopeless in competition with other areas using the technique. As it is, American Breeders Service serves Gogebic and south Ontonagon counties, Badger Breeders serves Menominee County and Michigan Artificial Breeders serves the other 12½ counties of the Upper Peninsula.

U. P. dairymen are feeding much more grain to balance roughage and increase milk production. Protein is expensive. Milk prices aren't high. If a protein substitute like urea can be used in its place, a saving can be made with no loss of production. But cows don't like urea, a nitrogenous compound. Chatham is now running tests of palatability, using molasses in various proportions to see if bossy can be deceived into thinking its apple pan dowdy.

These are typical of the changes underway in dairying, a fascinating economic adventure of great importance to the economy of the Upper Peninsula. They are being performed by our able young dairymen and by some veterans like Alphonse Wender of Iron Mountain, who has developed a very fine Dickinson County dairy farm by matching skill with determination.

Gov. George Romney stopped at the fair as Dr. Clint Meadows, professor of genetics at Michigan State University, was naming a Wender 4-year-old cow the fair's grand champion registered Holstein female. "That cow will never look better than it does at this minute," said Dr. Meadows. And he might have said the same thing about proud Champion Dairymen Alphonse Wender.

The Doctor Says:

Fast Pulse Not Dangerous

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—My pulse is never less than 100 beats a minute. With the least bit of exertion or excitement it goes as high as 140. This makes me jittery. What should I do?

A—Although this is a somewhat elevated pulse rate, it does not necessarily mean that you have a heart disease. What we have to find out is whether you are jittery because your heart is fast, or if your heart is fast because you are jittery. The first step would be to let your doctor get an electrocardiogram (ECG) and a basal metabolic rate (BMR). If your BMR is high, you may have a toxic goiter. The ECG would help your doctor determine whether there was something wrong with the electrical conduction system that controls your heart rate.

If both tests turn out to be normal, perhaps a short course of medicines to calm your nerves would get your pulse back to normal and break the vicious circle of worry, fast pulse, faster pulse, more worry.

Q—In January I had a miscarriage after being pregnant four months. This would have been our first child. Even since then I have had a choking sensation in my throat and it appears to be swollen. Even the weight of the bed covers on my neck seems to choke me. My doctor says this is caused by nerves. If so, how can I calm them down without resorting to tranquilizers?

A—The loss of a baby must have been a great shock and disappointment. This may, as your doctor suggests, be the reason for your choking sensation, but perhaps the swelling and your nervousness are caused by a goiter. A toxic goiter may even have been the cause of your unfortunate miscarriage.

If you have a goiter, proper treatment of this disease will greatly improve your chance of carrying your next pregnancy to full term.

If, after a painstaking examination to rule out goiter, your doctor reassures you that your trouble is nerves, this firm reassurance may be all that you need. On the other hand, if he wants you to try a tranquilizer for a week or two, be guided by his advice.

Q—Please let me know what food or liquid not to eat or drink for high blood pressure.

A—Many persons who have high blood pressure are also overweight. If you belong in this category, make reducing your first objective.

If your blood pressure is high in spite of normal weight, you should be on a low-sodium diet. This means that you should use one of the salt substitutes to replace table salt, and avoid anything that is already salted.

You should, therefore, eat no canned foods except canned fruits, no smoked foods, spiced meats, sausage, or ham. If you get pretty tired of this—as most people do—perhaps your doctor will give you one of the newer drugs that reduces blood pressure.

We're in the middle of the season when fiction is stranger than truth—golfers and fishermen are talking.

Washington Comment

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Kennedy has sent more than 20 major messages and letters to the Capitol so far this year—one for every five days that Congress has been in session.

It is a tremendous work load. Each message has contained from one to more than 30 legislative recommendations. The total, according to government sources, is close to 400.

Now going into the eighth month of its current session, Congress has passed and the President has signed into law nearly 100 bills. But not one of the approved measures has anything to do with a presidential recommendation.

A Senate Republican Policy Committee staff report finds that the whole program is stalled because the President has made more than 200 requests for money to finance new or enlarged programs and 70 requests for more power.

As a fundamental reason for the lack of action on Capitol Hill that explanation may be an oversimplification. Most of the President's recommendations admitted are controversial.

Letters To The Press

M 35 PROJECT

Mr. John E. Meyer
Director of Engineering
State Highway Department
Lansing, Michigan

Dear Sir:

In the past year we have corresponded freely with your office to determine why the M 35 improvement Projects for the Gladstone-Perkins sections and Delta-Marquette county line North sections were cancelled. These projects were announced in 1959 for completion in 1962.

You have advised us that funding was the cause, however, this leaves us at a loss to understand after considering the fact that M 35 South of Escanaba has been completely reconstructed since 1961—a project that was not proposed, funded or announced in 1959.

Your letters have indicated possible completions of this work toward the end of the "Second Five Year Period" or "after 1967". In the interim M 35 in these areas becomes more and more hazardous and has during this year contributed to at least one accident at the Brampton bridge, a narrow (18 ft.) bridge with uneven and curved approaches.

Although it is questionable if this road can be economically maintained, funds for routine repairs have been held to a bare minimum rendering highway crews helpless in attempting to sustain this road in a safe and serviceable condition.

A further aspect, and by far not the least, is the economic impact the condition of this road imparts on communities that would benefit from business from K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base. Very few of these potential customers wish to submit their cars or their lives to the existing road hazards on M 35 to shop and vacation in areas they would otherwise consider desirable.

The Rock Lions Club urges The State Highway Department to complete the reconstruction of M 35 as discussed with all haste for these reasons.

Rock Lions Club
Roads and Parks Committee
A. Q. Johnson, Club Secretary

From a Democratic administration point of view, the President's program recognizes that the United States and the whole world are changing. New solutions are said to be needed to meet new problems.

Congress and the country have not adjusted to this need for change. So the whole program is slowed down.

Whatever the cause may be, some of the pessimists now are saying that not more than half a dozen of the President's major recommendations will be acted on by Congress this year.

It is further predicted that all of the original requests considered will be changed materially—some almost beyond recognition.

This list includes tax cuts, a limited civil rights program, some additional aid for depressed areas and manpower retraining, new powers over the stock markets for Securities and Exchange Commission, a resolution to deal with the railroad labor crisis if management and the brotherhoods do not settle it themselves and, finally, ratification of the nuclear test ban.

Given much lower prospects for passage this year are several consumer protection measures, aid for mass transit in metropolitan areas, further changes in labor standards and unemployment insurance legislation, aids to grade and college education, new wheat cotton and dairy programs—all of which were recommended to Congress by the President last year.

The score on the President's major special messages to Congress for this session therefore stands about like this:

Tax reduction—House Ways and Means Committee just completing a first draft of bill still to be acted on by Congress.

Health—Hospitalization for the aged under Social Security in Senate committee; House hearings may begin soon. Aid for mental retardation passed by Senate, in House committee.

Development of recreation facilities—Still in Senate and House committees. Wilderness bill passed by Senate but still before House committee.

Youth programs—Youth Conservation Corps passed by Senate, reported out by House committee. National Service Corps reported out by Senate committee but still in House committee.

No action at all has been taken on the President's recommendations on tax benefits for political contributions, revision of national origins quota system and other immigration laws, measures for reducing U. S. balance of payments deficit.

Investigations—all under Democratic chairmen—drag on endlessly, probing Department of Defense contracts on the TFX fighter, the space program, civil rights, foreign agents lobbying, foreign aid, economic policy and fiscal policies.

It's small wonder congressmen don't have time to legislate. They're working like dogs, chasing their tails.

The only thing that can remedy all this is reorganization of Congress itself—which all but a few of the lawmakers refuse even to consider.

BIG BUNYAN

Visitors to Brainerd, Minn., are welcomed by a huge image of Paul Bunyan, folklore hero of lumberjacks. Bunyan used a trimmed pine tree for a pencil, according to legend, and hoof-prints of Babe, his blue ox, created Minnesota's 11,000 lakes.

Police Report Four-Car Crash

Occupants of four autos escaped serious injury when they were involved in a collision on U.S. 2-41 in Masonville Township, on the curve just south of the Greyhound Bus Depot, at 10:50 a.m. Thursday.

State Police, who investigated the mishap, said a passenger in one of the cars had no visible signs of injury, but complained of injury. She was treated by a Gladstone doctor and released.

According to officers, a car driven by William Lawrason, 56, of Farmington, was traveling towards Rapid River when he attempted to make a left-hand turn.

Police said that as he moved over the centerline he was struck by an oncoming car driven by Raymond Burkel, 26, of Ulica, and the impact forced Burkel's vehicle into a third car driven by William Seifert, 71, of E. Chicago, Ind., who was attempting to move around the first car (Lawrason's) on the right. Seifert was also headed north.

A fourth vehicle, driven by Kenneth Puffer, 53, of Iron River, traveling towards Rapid River, came upon the scene, couldn't stop and ran into the rear of Lawrason's car.

Lawrason was ticketed for failing to yield the right-of-way to thru traffic and Puffer for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions.

Ann Landers

Stay With Piano

Dear Ann Landers: On account of you I am still taking piano lessons which I hate. My mother wrote to you last year when I was 12 and asked if she should let me quit or make me go on. You said I should stick with my lessons until I am 14. According to you kids should do some things they hate because it's good for their character.

Well, I can't see where these crummy piano lessons have improved my character any, and for sure they haven't helped my mother's disposition.

Yesterday when I was practicing I got to day dreaming and looking out the window. My mother came by and gave me a hit with the fly swatter.

Do you think this is any way to treat a child? I told my Dad and he got kinda sore. Mom said she only tapped me a little to wake me up. I would like to see this in the paper since you are to blame for the whole thing.

—BENNIE

Dear Bennie: Fly swatters are for flies. But in my book you've got another year of piano lessons. So quit beefing and keep your eyes on the music, Bub.

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing this letter from a TB sanitarium — the last place in the world I ever thought I'd be. My doctor sent me here last month after a routine check-up. They tell me I must stay here for at least six months. I don't see how I can stay away from my family that long.

My husband is trying to keep house and cook. Our daughters are 10 and 12 years of age. We have no relatives in town we can turn to. My mother has troubles of her own so I can't ask her to come from Lincoln and take on my family responsibilities.

I'm worried that the girls aren't getting the proper food. And I can imagine what their clothes look like. My husband has been trying to hire help, but so far he's only been able to get a woman to come in twice a week.

I feel good, have a fine appetite and am completely rested. Please help me, Ann. My family needs me. —ABSENT MOTHER

Dear Mother: The state in which you live has a compulsory TB treatment law. If you were to leave the hospital against medical advice while you still have an active case of TB you would be compelled to return.

Even if there were no law you should be eager for treatment. You would be doing your family no favor in you returned and risked infecting them.

Check the social service department at the hospital. They will be able to help your husband get the assistance he needs. If there is no such department there, call the Family Service Association.

And the best thing you can do for yourself and your family is to be a patient patient. The few months you spend in the sanitarium will give you many added years of health and contentment.

Dear Ann: Two years ago we built a beautiful patio. But we can't use it on weekends — we must sit inside, with doors and windows shut. Why? Because our next door neighbors have put in a swimming pool.

Saturday morning the screaming begins. It continues until Sunday night. Last weekend I counted 13 children and 10 adults in their pool. The din is nerv shredding.

Our summer has become a nightmare. Is it fair that older people must get into a car and buck the traffic to escape the noise of next door neighbors? What can we do? —FORMER HOME LOVERS

Dear Former: Explain the situation to your neighbors as you explained it to me. If they make no effort to cut down the noise the police may have to decide if they are disturbing the peace.

Cannery Works On Bean Harvest

Hansen Canning Co. of Gladstone is operating 18 to 20 hours a day now packing beans harvested in Delta, and Menominee counties and from some acreage in the Coleman area in Marinette County, Wisconsin.

The Canning Co. had 500 acres in green and wax beans this year, reports George Hansen, Jr., the manager, an increase of about 10 per cent over last year.

Tokyo Pipe Firm Sued By Soviets

TOKYO (AP)—The Soviet Union is demanding $250,000 from a Japanese firm for failing to fulfill a contract for oil pipeline pipe, Tokyo newspapers reported today.

The Shinten Jitsugo Trading Co. confirmed it had received a Soviet demand for compensation but declined to reveal the amount or whether it would pay.

Hansen said that the local beans were better in quality than those from the Coleman area this year because of drought there. Local bean quality is good, he said, but yields are only fair although better than expected in earlier season forecasts.

The harvest will be about 2 to 2.5 tons per acre, which is not as good as last year, but not bad. "We have had fine vine growth, but the bean set has been uneven," Hansen said. "The beans on the bottom are larger and the later growth at the top is small because of lack of rain and won't be able to catch up before harvest."

The Gladstone cannery ended its annual pack of peas on Aug. 5 and starting canning beans on Aug. 8. It will continue to pack beans until Sept. 5 to 10 with three company-owned mechanical harvesters at work plus a picker developed by a late grower at Wilson.

After the bean pack the cannery will can potatoes.

PICKLED TONGUE-TWISTER

ST. LOUIS (AP)—When the National Pickle Packers Association picked Dill L. Pickle of Hollandale, Miss., as its "Man of the Year," the St. Louis Post Dispatch couldn't resist pointing out that Mr. Pickle was in a strong position to challenge the legendary Mr. Piper in the tongue-twisting department.

A whimsical article offered the following as a new tongue-twisting test: "The National Pickle Packers picked a man of the year, a man of the year the National Pickle Packers picked. If the National Pickle Packers picked a man of the year, Dill L. Pickle is the man the pickle packers picked."

Marie Wicklander Keeps Golf Crown

Marie Wicklander, playing near-perfect golf, successfully defended her Escanaba Country Club women's golf championship with a 5 and 4 victory over Doris Swanson in Thursday's title match.

The defending champ was unbeatable as she matched par through the first five holes and pulled 4-up at the turn. Swanson shot a steady game but was unable to match Wicklander's string of perfect shots.

Wicklander won the first hole with a par-5 and matched through

Eskymo Gridders Clash Tonight

Coach Jerry Cvensgros announced this morning that his Escanaba Eskymo football candidates will engage in an intrasquad scrimmage at 6:30 this evening.

The Eskymos began workouts Aug. 12 and will open their season Aug. 31 in a home stand against the Menominee Maroons.

Fight Results

Stocks Will Race In Fair Highlight

Stock car races, an annual highlight of the Upper Peninsula State Fair, will be staged at the fairground's track Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

The races, sponsored by the Escanaba Racing Assn. and the fair management, are under the direction of Jack Shiner.

Shiner announced today that the field will be restricted this year to Upper Peninsula drivers and cars.

Represented in the race, with a field of 32 expected, will be Escanaba, Schaffer, Gladstone, Gwinn, Champion, Marquette, Negaunee, Soo and Marquette.

Local drivers who will be in action include Bob Mayou, Dan Derluin, Max Perryman, Leroy Sovey, Don Benoit, Ray Peterson, Dick Peterson, Tom Gaffner, Tim Runkel, Red Lauscher, Willard LaMarch, Bob and Ken Iverson.

Ginnie Duenkel Swimming Star

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP)—If 16-year-old Ginnie Duenkel of the Summit, N. J., YMCA wants to take home the individual high point trophy from the National AAU Senior Women's Swimming and Diving Championships, she couldn't ask for a better position in which to do it.

Already the winner of two events, the 1,500-meter freestyle and the 200-meter backstroke, Miss Duenkel meets head-on her top two rivals for the meet's outstanding swimmer trophy.

This afternoon she'll face Robyn Johnson of the North Virginia AC in the 400-meter free and Saturday she takes on Donna De Varona, the Santa Clara S.C. star, in the 100-meter backstroke.

Each of these posted their initial triumphs in Thursday's competition, each in meet record time. Miss Johnson won her third straight 100 free title while Miss De Varona took the grueling 400-meter individual medley.

That's The Truth, Butts Tells Lawyer

ATLANTA (AP)—Wally Butts, former Georgia football coach, ended testimony in his $10-million libel suit with a solemn declaration that he had told the truth in denying game-rigging charges by a national magazine.

Closing arguments by attorneys began today with the case scheduled to go to the jury Monday after a weekend recess.

Butts was recalled briefly Thursday and asked if he had told the truth.

"That is the truth, sir," he replied.

The 58-year-old former athletic director at Georgia said last Friday and again Monday he never betrayed his football team. He sued because of a Saturday Evening Post article which said he fed Georgia team secrets to Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama.

The Post charged that Butts and Bryant rigged and fixed the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game which Alabama won 35-0.

After Butts left the witness stand, his attorney, William H. Schroder Sr., said quietly: "That is our case, your honor."

"And we have completed our case, your honor," quickly responded Welborn B. Cody, chief counsel for Curtis.

Both sides quickly moved for directed verdicts and the motions were promptly denied by Judge Lewis R. Morgan.

Preceding Butts to the stand was Dr. Frank A. Rose, president of the University of Alabama.

Rose was questioned at length about a letter he had written Dr. Georgia president.

In the March 6 letter, Rose said Bryant got information about Georgia football plays from Butts, Rose said.

"My letter was my best layman's interpretation of what I thought Coach Bryant told me," Rose insisted Bryant never said he got inside information on Georgia's team from Butts, but that the Alabama coach was trying to get interpretations of rules applying to defensive tactics.

His letter, he said, was not intended as a legal document but was an attempt to convey to Aderhold that there was nothing unethical exchanged between Butts and Bryant.

Curtis introduced the letter in evidence in support of his claim that Butts gave Bryant detailed secrets of Georgia's team in a Sept. 13 telephone call, nine days before the game.

Area Softball Teams To Play At Iron River
Four Escanaba district softball teams will compete in the Upper Peninsula Class D tournament which opens in Iron River Saturday.

The teams from this district are slated for action as follows: Bill's Bar of Rapid River at 2 p.m., Mead No. 3 at 3:30, Mead No. 2 at 5 and Hall Insurance at 8.

Packers Putting Polish On Game

DALLAS (AP)—The Green Bay Packers put polish on the offensive plays they plan to use against Dallas Saturday night and wound up practice for the week Thursday.

The favorable weather of the past two days has permitted the Packers to get in satisfactory drills and the squad will be in top shape when it meets the Cowboys.

Tigers Close Gap On Seventh Place In American Race

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Although the New York Yankees are going that way, the Detroit Tigers find themselves entering a showdown series with the Angels here tonight.

Detroit is just two percentage points behind Los Angeles in a battle for seventh place — or, if you're looking for a psychological lift, second place in the second division.

The Tigers headed for L.A. late Thursday after subduing the Kansas City Athletics, 11-1. This gave Detroit a 2-1 edge in the series at Kansas City and tied the two clubs for eighth place with a .453 mark.

Rookie southpaw Mickey Lolich (4-6) is hoping he'll have the same touch tonight that Hank Aguirre showed in stopping the Athletics on eight hits. The Angels will counter with their ace, Ken McBride (12-8).

Aguirre — now even at 11-11 for the season — had a breeze after the Tigers came up with seven runs in the fourth inning. Back-to-back singles by Al Kaline, Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash sent the first run across.

Bubba Phillips sacrificed and Gus Triandos was walked intentionally. Then Don Wert upset the strategy by slapping a two-run single to center. His smash came off Bill Fisher, who relieved starter Diego Segui.

Triandos scored as Aguirre beat out a punt and Wert trotted home when Billy Bruton singled to center. The ball slipped past Bobby Del Greco, enabling Aguirre and Bruton to score. Kaline came up for the second time in the inning, but flied out to end the rally.

The Tigers preceded the big fourth with two runs in the third. Bruton and Dick McAuliffe each singled in a run. McAuliffe hit a run-producing double in the sixth.

Yank Super Subs Star In Victory

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Mickey Mantle and Tony Kubek are benched with foot trouble. Roger Maris has a sore hand. You'd think the New York Yankees would rattle along like a car without two front wheels.

So Johnny Blanchard hits two home runs, including a first-inning grand slammer, and drives in six runs. Hee Lopez and Phil Linz each bang a double and two singles.

The super subs wind up with a total of eight hits and eight runs batted in in a 10-2 blast of the Red Sox at Boston Thursday.

As for Blanchard, the Sox would like to dump him in the Charles River. He doesn't hit for average in Fenway Park but when he does connect, the seats get an awful blasting.

"I think I've only had six hits in this park in my entire career and five of them have been home runs," said Blanchard after he wrecked the Sox. His recollection is correct. Of the five homers, four won games.

Adrian Survives Baseball Battle

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Three teams were on the ropes as second-day play commenced today in the double elimination Region 5 tournament to decide a berth in the American Legion National Baseball finals at Keene, N. H.

One of those with lose-and-out jeopardy after opening losses Thursday was Ohio's champion, Ashtabula. The Lakesiders bowed to Independence, Mo., 1-0.

The two day games were slugging bees, with Adrian, Mich., clipping Bowling Green, Ky., 16-9, and Evansville, Ind., walloping Kenosha, Wis., 9-1.

Al Erickson Clutch Hitter On Springfield Ball Team

(Editor's note: The following story appeared in a recent issue of the Springfield, Mass., newspaper.)

With two outs in the last of the ninth and the winning runs in scoring position, which Springfield Giant player would Manager Buddy Kerr prefer to have at bat?

Al Erickson's the answer, and last night he showed a Pynchon Park crowd of 1,545 why he ranks so high in Kerr's estimation.

In the situation described above, Erickson came through with a single to left center to score two runs and give the Giants a 6-5 victory in the first half of their important double header against the Charleston Indians.

Erickson's winning blow climaxed Springfield's three-run rally in the final inning.

He's Sound Hitter

Kerr likes to talk at length about Erickson, one of his favorite players on the Springfield club. Since Al, a catcher-outfielder who also can play first base, broke into the lineup on April 26 he has been a starter against all types of pitching.

"Erickson is our best clutch hitter. He and Hal Lanier have been our most consistent hitters," points out Kerr. "By the end of the season, I think Erickson will be one of the soundest hitters in the league."

Kerr explained that a "sound

Water Ski Club Will Stage Show Here On Sunday

The Escanaba Aqua-Nuts Water Ski Club will stage a benefit show to raise funds for the retarded children's school project on Sunday, Aug. 18, from 2 to 4 p. m. at the Municipal Dock.

"The show, in which two dozen young members of our club will perform will include 20 thrill-packed acts," said Tom Gasman, founder and president of the water ski organization.

"We will charge admission, but all the proceeds will go to the retarded children's school funds," Gasman said.

Gasman listed some of the acts the skiers will perform:

A pyramid of three and a pyramid of five and two or three pyramids at the same time.

A dangerous stunt in which a skier jumps over another skier off the jumping platform. Don Ness and Richard DeGrand perform the trick.

Three skiers going off the jump at the same time, performed by Lyle Bero, Amer Pedersen and Jerry Ness.

Two skiers with shoe skis, performed by Jerry Ness and David Skipper.

Lyle Bero in a barefoot skiing act and Debbie Turner, a six-year-old water skier.

Among other performers slated for action are Tom Gasman, Bob McDonough, Marcie Lancour, Cincy Brock, Sandy Moreau, Brian Flath, Johnny Destrampe, Darlene Charon, Paul Woolford, Joe Vogel, Carol Moreau, Dolly Malnor, Judy Jensen, Annette Erickson and Ken Wicklander.

Field Of 24 Set For Net Tournney

The 15th annual Upper Peninsula-Northern Wisconsin Tennis Open gets underway Saturday at the Ludington Park courts with a 24-player bracket competing for the senior men's singles title.

In addition to the usual large contingent from Marquette, Marinette, and American Soo, five netters will be here from Soo, Ontario for the first time.

Semifinals will be played on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the champion match scheduled for 4 o'clock.

Tournament headquarters will be at Ludington Park and participants are asked to report at the courts there at least 15 minutes before the scheduled time of their match.

Director Paul Vardigan announced today that a junior division for boys and girls will be added to the tournament if sufficient entries are received by Sunday noon.

The junior division will be for tennis players under 18. Vardigan stated that any boys unable to play because of employment hours may call him to arrange special playing time.

The pairings:

Peter Chow of Soo, Ont. vs. Kenneth Johnson of Marinette, Wis. at 11 a.m.; Wayne Cameron of Soo, Mich. vs. Robert Monnier of Menominee at 11 a.m.; Pat Dempsey of Soo, Mich. vs. Brian Peterson of Marquette at 11 a.m.;

Jack Crawford of Soo, Mich. vs. Harry Hull of Marquette at 11 a.m.; Charles Kennedy of Soo, Mich. vs. Jerry Chodas of Iron Mountain at 11 a.m.;

Austin Duquette of Soo, Ont. vs. Dennis Betway of Marquette at 1 p.m.; Steve Sillers of Soo, Ont. vs.

Draper, the lone Yank in the field after three other Americans were knocked off Thursday, met Joe Ferguson of Calgary in a morning quarter-final.

Draper squeezed into the quarter-finals Thursday with a pair of 1 up victories over Canadians Bill Pidiaski and Gordon Leslie.

School Exhibits Need Interest

By PEGGY MUNSON

Some school exhibits, located in the Industrial Exhibit Building at the U. P. State Fair, show a great deal of ingenuity and talent on the part of the students and teachers who entered them. But the number of exhibits is considerably smaller than in previous years. Nearly all of the exhibits come from schools in the immediate Escanaba area and only two counties, Houghton and Menominee, other than Delta were represented.

According to Leo Brunelle, of Bark River, who judged the exhibits, there is no way of knowing why interest on the part of other county schools has slackened in recent years. There are so many categories to enter and many prizes were left begging because of insufficient exhibits.

It appears to this observer that unless further interest is stimulated the entire department might well be discontinued to provide room for departments like needlework and food that this year set U. P. State Fair records with the number of entries.

Judging was done collectively on each school's exhibit, except for junior high school and vocational and senior high schools, where individual entries were considered. The entries were judged on the basis of general appearance, originality, organization, social value, and quality of workmanship.

Inconvenience may be the reason some schools haven't entered the competition but the only real inconvenience, if it could even be called that, is the actual entering. For the exhibits are supposed to be actual projects or displays showing the work done during the year. The materials are very definitely not to be prepared for exhibit purposes.

Representative of some of the finer displays were: James T. Jones School, Gladstone, fourth grade art under Don Saykily which had pictures of make-believe animals which shows the wonders of a child's imagination; Powers-Spalding drew attention with its kindergarten's display of exceptional coloring of animals for a science project and a creative art project where the youngsters drew pictures of stained glass windows showing a precocious ability to reproduce what they see. Mrs. Florence Dault is the teacher.

Rancher Praises U.P. Beef Show

Beef breeders of Delta County were praised by a Canadian rancher today following a tour of the dairy and beef barns at the U. P. State Fair Grounds.

Earl J. Ramsay of Cut Knife, Sask., told Grey Knaus, superintendent of the beef exhibitions, and Larry Bradford, county 4-H extension agent, that he thought the beef show was an excellent one.

Ramsay, who operates a 2,500-acre farm at Cut Knife, judged beef breeds at the Millfort fair this year, Turtleford fair in 1962, and about 15 shows under the 4-H program.

His farm, "Carlbams Hereford Farm," is located about 300 miles east of Edmonton, Canada.

In comparing the animals entered at the U. P. fair with those in his country, Ramsay said there animals tend to be somewhat larger and consist mainly of Herefords, Angus and a few Short-horns.

He said their 4-H fat stock is similar to the Upper Peninsula's but that his area did not have advantage of a 4-H beef breeding program offered in this country which he praised highly.

According to the rancher, the rate of gain per day in many of their fat stock is as much as three pounds. "Most of our 4-year-old bulls will weigh in about 2,000 pounds, and some of the 18-month-old animals as much as 1,800 pounds," he said.

Ramsay said that he and his family were passing through when they saw the U. P. State Fair in progress and decided to stop. "We're glad we did," he said.

Located on a beautiful little harbor, with limestone bluff rising in the background, Fayette is an attractive place for the photographer.

Many people daily visit the historical site. The Historical Museum holds articles found in the harbor and vicinity. Skin divers have recovered guns, household utensils and many other items that are now on display. Articles of interest can be viewed here and throughout the townsite, once a bustling village in a remote area on the northern shore of Lake Michigan.

Majorities Meeting

Majorities will be fitted for uniforms at a meeting Saturday at 9 a. m. at the school grounds, Mrs. Kenneth Haggart announces.

Cabin Entered

State Police have received complaints of the breaking and entering of a cabin on the Tahquamenon River in Columbus Township owned by Kenneth Jepson of Lansing and Thomas Young of Diamondale. The owners have been notified and an investigation will be made.

Boater Violation

The Sheriff's Department has received several complaints from tourists on North Manistique Lake of boaters violating the inland water restrictions.

Three Car Accident

John Armstrong was ticketed by State Police for excessive speed following an accident Monday at 1:55 p. m. on M 123, a half mile south of Newberry. Armstrong was following two cars. All were going north. The first car driver Betty Weaver, 39, of Zanesville, Ohio, stopped to make a left turn, Armstrong hit the rear of a car ahead of him driven by William Adams of Royal Oak, who was behind the Weaver car. Ann Adams in the second car complained of being shaken up, as did Ruth Armstrong a passenger in the Armstrong car.

Bake Sale

Women of Bethany Lutheran Church will sponsor a bake sale Saturday, Aug. 17, at the Isabella Super-Market site.

Evening Party

Mrs. Ross Guertin entertained several friends at her home Tuesday evening. Guests were Mesdames Ralph Morrison, Harvey Sundin, Vernon Peterson, Caleb Johnson, Ella Hill and Ruth Ann Johnson, Joan Nedeau and Mrs. Gerald Groleau.

Mrs. Peter Turan of Chicago, former resident of Isabella, is hospitalized after suffering a slight stroke.

Mrs. Elroy Palmgren and Allen have arrived from a Naval Base in Florida to visit her mother, Mrs. Emily Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Belgin and Vickie and Carol of Cleveland are vacationing at the home of her mother, Mrs. Esther Bonifas.

Most unusual craft in the Escanaba Yacht Basin Friday was the 64-foot Shebeen, owned by Capt. E. G. Newton of Guntersville, Ala. She has some unusual features, not the least of which is a large electric organ in the main cabin. The Shebeen came here from Ephraim, was visiting boat number 131 so far this season, and was to head back toward Chicago and south this weekend. (Daily Press Photo)

Shoreline Study House Committee Coming Aug. 27

A House Interim Committee to Study the Great Lakes Shoreline will hold a hearing in Escanaba on Tuesday, Aug. 27, at the State Office Building, one of a series of hearings to be held in the state.

Rep. Hans Rasmussen of Ludington, the chairman, said that the committee will hear from industries, communities and individuals who have interest in what happens to the Great Lakes shorelines.

The Legislature created the committee and empowered it to "determine the proper method of locating the limits and the contents of the state's trust and fee title in the beds of the Great Lakes, and to report its findings and recommendations to the 1964 Legislature."

With Chairman Rasmussen on the committee are Reps. Edmund Good of Gaylord, Don Gordon of Leland, John Penczak of Wayne and Clark Most of Alanson.

Six hearings are to be held in Michigan. Only one, that scheduled for Escanaba, is in the Upper Peninsula, and will be from 2 to 4 p. m. on Tuesday, Aug. 27, in the State Office Building.

Anders Named Top Showman

Jean Anders of Carney was named top showman of all breeds during 4-H competitions at the U. P. State Fair Grounds Thursday. Her entry was a Holstein.

Second place winner in the showmanship contest was Eldon Bowers of Stephenson. Mildred Thoney of Daggett won third place.

By class the winners in the contests were:

HOLSTEIN — Jean Anders, Carney, 1st; Eldon Bowers of Stephenson, second; and James Lutri of Menominee County, third.

BROWN SWISS — Karen Riley, Menominee County, 1st; Gregory Mayers, Delta County, second; and Daniel Reath, Vulcan, third.

GUERNSEY — Pat Tikkanen, Houghton County, 1st; Douglas Klein, of Wallace, second; and Marvin Klein, also of Wallace, third.

JERSEY — Mildred Thoney of Daggett, 1st; Randy Johnson, of Carney, second; and Roger Johnson, also of Carney, third place.

Briefly Told

The Wells Township Recreation Baseball picnic will be held Monday at Pioneer Trail Park. Lunch will be served beginning at noon followed by an all star game between Soo Hill and Wells area teams.

Escanaba firemen were called to the C&N.W. Railway yards at 7:45 p. m. Thursday where a ceiling in a scale house caught fire from a stove chimney. Earlier in the afternoon they responded to a call from the John Clairmonts, 1629 16th Ave. S., where wiring shorted in a range; and on Wednesday they were called to the Fred Rouille residence, 1604 N. 21st St., to extinguish a smoldering fire in a couch.

A traffic summons has been issued by Escanaba police to Bertel M. Stadel, 1300 S. 14th St., for driving with an expired operator's license.

Pat Mullin, 907 S. 11th St., reported to Escanaba police that he has lost a billfold containing about $140 in the 100 block, N. 16th St., at 3:30 a. m. on Wednesday.

College Signs Dolores Sampson For Its Faculty

President Richard Rinehart of Bay de Noc Community College announces Miss Dolores Sampson, who just returned to this country from Germany will teach at the college. Miss Sampson has been teaching at the American High School in Bad Kreuznach, Germany for two years and is just returned after an extended European tour. Her visits this summer included Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

Miss Sampson will teach business and secretarial courses at the college and will develop the secretarial science curriculum including co-op job planning. She received her Bachelor of Arts and Masters of Arts degrees from Eastern Kentucky State College and had previous teaching experience in Cincinnati. She is particularly interested in Delta County, because her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Sampson, moved to Gladstone from Ashland, Kentucky. She was born in Portsmouth, Ohio.

She will be responsible for the secretarial science curriculum, which will include courses in typing, shorthand, office practices and special equipment, as well as specialties in particular areas, such as legal and medical stenography. These will be developed as the need becomes apparent. Since she studied in the commerce school at Eastern Kentucky, she will also help with the business program. One of her first duties

Attendance Grows At Fayette Park

Fayette, historical old iron smelting village located on the Garden Peninsula, is the scene of increasing activity in a preservation-restoration program.

Now a Michigan State Park administered by the Department of Conservation, much of the restoration work is made possible through a bond program financed through a vehicle permit. Campground and picnic facilities established outside the old townsite are showing increased usage.

The site was chosen by the Jackson Iron Co. nearly 100 years ago to smelt the iron ore from their mine near Negaunee. The first of two furnaces was completed in 1867. The village of Fayette grew into a successful charcoal smelting industry, the second largest producer of pig iron in Michigan. By 1892 operations had ceased. This once busy village was destined to become a Ghost Town.

Today, stone masons can be seen rebuilding retaining walls; house foundations have been excavated and preserved that once supported the homes of company workers nearly a century ago; two tall smelting furnaces have been remortered to prevent the stacks from deterioration.

Newberry KC's To Install Officers

NEWBERRY — Knights of Columbus met Monday night in the Parish Hall and cancelled the K of C picnic planned for Aug. 25. The cancellation was due to the installation of officers at White Head Island that day.

Three councils will be represented, Newberry, St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie. The installation and meeting will take place at the Island, and members and their wives will meet at the Marine dock at Sault Ste. Marie at 1 p. m. and will be taken to the Island by the U. S. Coast Guard, and return at 8 p. m.

District Deputy John Peller of St. Ignace was present at the meeting.

Isabella

Bake Sale

Women of Bethany Lutheran Church will sponsor a bake sale Saturday, Aug. 17, at the Isabella Super-Market site.

Evening Party

Mrs. Ross Guertin entertained several friends at her home Tuesday evening. Guests were Mesdames Ralph Morrison, Harvey Sundin, Vernon Peterson, Caleb Johnson, Ella Hill and Ruth Ann Johnson, Joan Nedeau and Mrs. Gerald Groleau.

Mrs. Peter Turan of Chicago, former resident of Isabella, is hospitalized after suffering a slight stroke.

Mrs. Elroy Palmgren and Allen have arrived from a Naval Base in Florida to visit her mother, Mrs. Emily Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Belgin and Vickie and Carol of Cleveland are vacationing at the home of her mother, Mrs. Esther Bonifas.

Within 10 days, this dog will die.

He has distemper . . . a contagious disease that can strike a dog any time, anywhere. A severe case of distemper is almost always fatal, or leaves a dog partially paralyzed for the rest of his life.

The best defense—in fact, the only dependable defense—is immunization.

Distemper symptoms often come without warning. A severe respiratory and eye infection, accompanied by loss of appetite, high temperature, sluggishness, and possibly diarrhea. By the time you're aware something's wrong, it may be too late.

Distemper will kill more than a quarter million dogs this year, and will cripple nearly as many more. In fact, ninety percent of non-vaccinated dogs will catch it to some degree during their lifetimes.

Your dog can be immunized against distemper and against rabies and many other serious canine diseases. But only if you see your veterinarian before the disease strikes. Fair warning? Don't put it off. Pitman-Moore Company, Division of The Dow Chemical Company, Indianapolis 6, Indiana.
